We are pleased to announce that Motorists Insurance Group and BrickStreet Insurance are now Encova Insurance.

The last two years since our affiliation have resulted in the ability to do more together as one company. We have combined decades of industry experience to better serve you, our agents and the communities we serve. Encova is a one-stop shop for all your insurance needs.

We want to ensure you know and understand this change. You will receive a series of postcards over the next several months to remind you of our new brand and to watch for future mailings with our Encova logo - that way you don't miss any important future mailings from us. We will also advertise our new brand through traditional and social media to assist with name recognition.

We appreciate your continued support and partnership, and will continue to do everything we can to be your insurance company of choice. We are proud to have you in our circle.

Please contact your Encova agent or company representative if you have questions.
